

Just Write For Kids Blogging Conditions

Just Write For Kids Blog is an online forum aimed at promoting the value of children's literature through a range of resources available to, and provided by authors, illustrators, editors, publishers, teachers, parents and students. It provides the latest news, events, tips and resources suitable for the writing and education industries, and so content posted must be family-friendly and appropriate to the Just Write For Kids philosophy.

Blogger Guidelines.

Features

Just Write For Kids Blog will accept emailed submissions for publication to the website, provided they meet the following conditions. Authors will receive a credit with their name and up to four links to their personal contacts.

Word Count

Please keep the word count between 100 and 750 words. The Director is not responsible for editing articles, so those over the limit will not be accepted.

Also, please ensure your content is free from spelling and grammatical errors.

Copyright

Bloggers are responsible for copyright of their work, and must have verified copyright for their posts, including text and images. All images must be attributed as per Copyright restrictions. Please view the following websites for more information:

http://teacherchallenge.edublogs.org-7-images-copyright-and-creative-commons.

<http://blog.hubspot.com/blog/tabid/6307/bid/33098/How-Not-to-Steal-People-s-Content-on-the-Web.aspx>

Bloggers retain copyright of their own work, including text, photos and graphics.

Re-publishing Posts

Blog posts on the JWFK Blog must be original and exclusive to the JWFK Blog for one week. Bloggers are permitted to publish their content on other blogs, with the statement: "This post first appeared on the Just Write For Kids Blog." with a backlink / URL to www.justwriteforkids.wordpress.com.

Links / Sharing.

You may add links to your own and other writing-related websites if appropriate, and, if possible, aim to reciprocate a link back to the Just Write For Kids Blog. Contributors are encouraged to share their featured blog posts through their existing social media channels, as well as posts by other contributors. Please use the hashtag #JustWriteForKidsOZ when sharing on social media.

Right to Decline a Submission.

Blog posts must be appropriate to the Australian children's literature industry and content general, reflective or informative in nature. Please consider our advertising services for posts reflecting your book / author / event promotion. Just Write For Kids Blog has the right to decline a submission for publication at its own discretion. A response may or may not be provided. No further correspondence will be entered in to.

Promotions / Advertising.

For rates please email Just Write For Kids Blog with your advertising proposal and details of your promotion, workshop, upcoming event, book or website.

Thank you for your willingness to contribute to the Just Write For Kids Blog!

With Kind Regards,

Romi Sharp.

Founder / Director.

www.justwriteforkids.wordpress.com

justwriteforkidsblog@gmail.com

www.facebook.com/groups/justwriteforkids
www.facebook.com/JustWriteForKidsAustralia

www.twitter.com/jwfkblog
#JustWriteForKidsOZ